

Cross Hatching

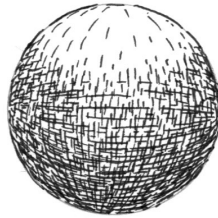

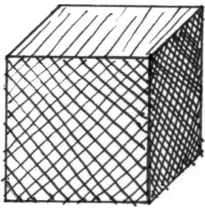

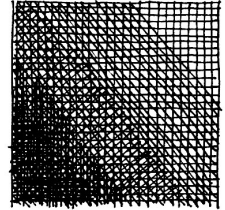

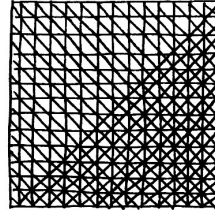

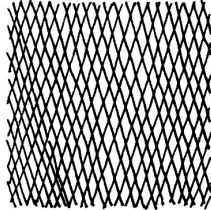

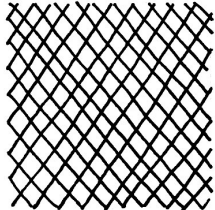

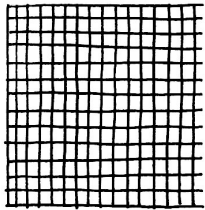

Cross-hatching is drawing layers of parallel lines running in different directions to create the effect of shade and tone. Variations in light and shadow can be created by varying the weight and width of the lines and the spaces between them.

value chart

Precise intersecting lines. Use for deepening shadows and covering Loose sketchy lines create a variety of rough textures.

